

THE PHILADELPHIA TRIUNE

Tuesday, November 19, 2013 • Page 5-A

Internal investigation of suspect cop continues

EXHIBIT B

CRIME LOG

RICHARD DOVE

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The internal investigation of a Philadelphia police officer who was accused of shooting a man who was later found dead in a car, continued Tuesday. The investigation is being led by the Philadelphia Police Department's Internal Affairs Bureau. The officer, Richard Dove, 34, is a sergeant and has been with the department for 10 years. He was accused of shooting a man who was later found dead in a car on Monday, Nov. 11, 2013. The man was identified as a 34-year-old man who was a friend of Dove's. The investigation is ongoing and the department is seeking witnesses and evidence. Dove is currently on administrative leave.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The internal investigation of a Philadelphia police officer who was accused of shooting a man who was later found dead in a car, continued Tuesday. The investigation is being led by the Philadelphia Police Department's Internal Affairs Bureau. The officer, Richard Dove, 34, is a sergeant and has been with the department for 10 years. He was accused of shooting a man who was later found dead in a car on Monday, Nov. 11, 2013. The man was identified as a 34-year-old man who was a friend of Dove's. The investigation is ongoing and the department is seeking witnesses and evidence. Dove is currently on administrative leave.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The internal investigation of a Philadelphia police officer who was accused of shooting a man who was later found dead in a car, continued Tuesday. The investigation is being led by the Philadelphia Police Department's Internal Affairs Bureau. The officer, Richard Dove, 34, is a sergeant and has been with the department for 10 years. He was accused of shooting a man who was later found dead in a car on Monday, Nov. 11, 2013. The man was identified as a 34-year-old man who was a friend of Dove's. The investigation is ongoing and the department is seeking witnesses and evidence. Dove is currently on administrative leave.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The internal investigation of a Philadelphia police officer who was accused of shooting a man who was later found dead in a car, continued Tuesday. The investigation is being led by the Philadelphia Police Department's Internal Affairs Bureau. The officer, Richard Dove, 34, is a sergeant and has been with the department for 10 years. He was accused of shooting a man who was later found dead in a car on Monday, Nov. 11, 2013. The man was identified as a 34-year-old man who was a friend of Dove's. The investigation is ongoing and the department is seeking witnesses and evidence. Dove is currently on administrative leave.